

Classical Chinese Herbal Shen Healing and Magic

A SHAMANIC HEALING APPROACH TO CHINESE HERBAL MEDICINE

A 64-Hour (32 Tuesdays) Training Intensive Course

Begins Tuesday, March 17, 2009, 7:45pm—9:45 pm (No Prerequisites)

This training series offers the student an experiential overview of the major esoteric or shamanic principles & fundamental structures that govern Classical Chinese Herbal Medicine. For the Wu Yi, the Chinese shamanic doctor, nature has a hidden side. A different mode of perception is needed since the concealed side of nature can only be perceived with the heart's special abilities. One must access the special magical gifts of the herbal, animal and mineral realms by learning to directly perceive and connect with the shen (spiritual essences or souls) of herbs. Accessing and communicating with these shen or nature spirits is a direct path to healing.

The Wu Yi Doctor has never depended on a written Herbal Materia Medica for his knowledge on herbal medicine. Even if all the written manuscripts and books on herbal medicine were destroyed and all herbal healers and doctors died, the Wu Yi Doctor, utilizing shamanic methods of journeying, perceiving and communicating with the shen or spirits of herbs, trees, mountains, lakes, rivers, wood, fire, earth, metal and water, animals and minerals would be able to access and recover the entirety of the medicine of herbs and nature. The Wu Yi studies at the feet of the greatest master teacher of all: Nature. He truly knows that "if we listen, plants, trees and nature will teach us."

The Wu Yi Doctor knows shamanic techniques to access his Da Zi Ran Shen, that timeless part of our Being that is always ready to help us access the secret spiritual powers of herbs. Experience for yourself what Chinese shamans mean when they say that: "One thing is for a human being to become interested in herbs and plants, and another is for herbs and plants to become interested in that human being."
